ARREST OF AN ALLEGED HORSE THIEF,-ARREST OF AN ALLEGED HORSE THIEF.—
Officer Chumley yesterday arrested a man named Charles Hinton upon a charge of horsestealing. The officise is said to have been committed in October last, in one of the river countles in Virginia. Yesterday morning he arrived in the city on the steamer A. W. Quarrier, and the officer being apprised of the fact, immediately took him into custody. He was lodged in the Hammond-street Station-house, and will have a hearing this morning before Judge Lowe.

before Judge Lowe.

Stabbing Affray Near the Brighton House.—A couple of men, named Samuel Jones and Edward Davis, became involved in a difficulty, last evening, at a drinking-house, in the Twelfth Ward, during which the latter was seriously injured by a knife in the hands of the former. How the quarrel originated, we could not learn, but the men had been drinking together apparently quite friendly, when a dispute arose, which resulted in the manner we have stated. Davis received two very severe wounds—one in the side, and another in the arm—which will confine him to his bed for some time, even if they prove not tatal. The affray occurred early in the evening, but no arrests have as yet been made.

Finale of the Mahone Homeide.—William Adans, who, it will be remembered, was implicated with John Clawson in the murder of Richard T. Mahone, was yesterday arraigned before Judge Collins, in the Court of Common Pleas, for trial, and, to the astonishment of all who were present, pleaded guilty of manslaughter. Clawson was called to the stand, and stated that he had told the defendant, before the homicide, that he indefendant, before the homicide, that he in-tended to whip Mahone, and Adams said he should accompany him for the purpose of having fair play shown to him. The meet-ing with Adams, who did not know that Mahone was at the Telegraph House when he went in, on the night of the homicide, he mid, was wholly accidental, and that the defendant had no weapon whatever, save a hickory cane. Adams was then sentenced to an imprisonment in the Penitentiary for the term of one year.

A Bucolic Buckeye Adrently Swindled, —A young man from the Northern part of the State, who absolutely refused to tell his name, was swindled out of $40 yesterday morning, near the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad Depot. He had just arrived in the city, and was met by a couple of young men, who seemed very kind, and proffered their services to escort him through the metropolis. After wandering about for some time, and imbibling sundry quantities of bad liquor, mixed with tart catawbe, they reached the locality to which we have referred, when one of his newly-found friends displayed a "little joker," and he was soon induced to make a bet, which, of course, he lost. This was fatal to his pleasure in a double sense, for soon after he discovered that, instead of having a couple of companions, he was not only solus but minus all the money he had in the world. He suddenly awoke to a realization of the trick that had been played upon him, and described the persons who had swindled him to the police, who as yet, we believe, have been unable to find them. He says the lesson he has learned will suffice for the balance of his life, and we do not doubt it.

Y. M. M. L. LECTURES—CARL SHURZ ON "FRANCE."—The lecture on "France," by Carl Shurz, last evening, before the Library Association, at Smith & Nixon's Hall, drew a large audience, as we had anticipated from the reputation Mr. Shurz has acquired as an advocate of freedom in Europe and America.

His discourse was able and interesting, though not marked by any particular newness of view or force of illustration. He alluded to the high civilization of France and its peculiar condition preceding the deposition of Louis Phillippe. The French were here-worshippers, looked for and up to leaders, and desired to be saved the trouble of thinking and self-government.

For this reason, aided by name and person, Louis Napoleon had gone to Paris immediately on hearing of the revolution there, and had continued to fix himself in a position by false pretensions and professions of freedom. At last he had gained the hight of his ambition, and been crowned with the imperial purple. All his promises, the more sacred, he had violated; all his protestations had been ignored; and yet the people seemed to regard him as their highest benefactor. Napoleon was a man of low intellect, and large brute instinct, who saw all things through himself, and would favor a popular and enlightened cause only so long as it appeared to him politic.

The centralization of political power, in France, had hid much to do in making revolutions, and another was as liable to occur to-morrow as at any other time. France was peculiar, and led by fewer men than any other country in the world. It would be difficult to determine its future, which was as mysterious as Louis Napoleon would wish to appear.

This is a very rude outline of the discourse, but we have no searce to say more this even-

MERTING OF THE DOUGLAS DENOCHATS-

MERTINO OF THE DOUBLAS DEMORRATE—FORMATION OF A POPULAR SOVERMINATE CLUB.—Quite a large meeting of the Douglas Democrats was held last night, at Metropolitan Hall, on the corner of Ninth and Walnut, for the purpose of forming a Popular Sovereignty Club, the object of which should be to make every effort in its power to secure the nomination of Stephen A. Douglas for President, at the coming Charleston Convention. After the meeting had been called to order, J. M. Noble was elected Chairman, and G. W. C. Johnston appointed Secretary. W. T. Fedriest then arose and addressed the meeting at some length, stating the object for which the meeting had been called, and moved that a committee of five be appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws. The motion prevailed by a unanimous vote, and Judge Oliver, George P. Buell, Oscar G. Thielman, Charles Lyle and C. H. Schroeder were appointed for that purpose.

Judge Oliver was then called upon to address the assembly, after which Mr. Buell offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we, as Democrats, feet warranted in Expressing the opinion that Stephen A. Douglas, of

The meeting was then addressed at some length by George P. Buell, Thomas G. Gallagher and Oscar G. Thielman, all of whom expressed themselves in the highest terms of regard for Mr. Douglas, and declared that, in their opinion, he was the only man who could unite the Democracy during the coming campaign.

unite the Democracy during the coming campaign.

Bart Smith then offered a resolution to the effect that funds be raised to defray the expenses of an artillery company to be formed of the Douglas Club, and sent to Charleston at the time of the nominating Convention.

After considerable discussion, this was regarded as somewhat premature, as the Club was not yet organized, and it was therefore laid upon the table for the present.

Judge Oliver, Chairman of the Committee on Constitution and By-Laws, requested the Committee to meet at his office next friday evening, and the meeting adjourned to assemble again at the same place on Tuesday evening next.

Early last Saturday morning an infant was found, carefully wrapped up and lying in a basket, on the steps of the Cincinnati Orphan 'Asylum, on Elm-street, near Thirteenth. It had evidently been there some time, and when taken up was found to be quite ill. While attending to its wants one of the nurses discovered upon its breath the unmistakable odor of laudanum, and the symptoms were such as to establish the fact which had been detected in this manner.

Every effort was made to arouse it from the stuppor into which it had fallen, but without avail. It lingered, however, until Sunday night, when it died, evidently, from the effects of an over-dose of this villainous marcotic. Coroner Carey was called upon yesthe body, but what the result was we were

This is a very rude outline of the discourse, but we have no space to say more this evening. After the Library lecture, Carl Sharz addressed his countrymen in German, at Turner's Hall, and was warmly received.

At His Old Stand.—Our citizens will no doubt be pleased to learn that Mr. J. P. Ball opens his new Photographic Institute to-day, at his old stand, lately occupied by Harian & Wilson, No. 30 West Fourth-street. His rooms have been painted, decorated and refitted in a superb style, and now probably surpass any establishment of the kind in a call to-day.

She has a rare power of expressing her ideal in her action, and, in this character, particularly, leaves an impression which, among the justicious, still always entitle her to be ranked among the great.

COMMON PLEAS, COMMON FLEAS,

THE MAHONE HOMICIDE—SENTENCE OF WM. ADAMS.—The case of The State es. Wm. Adams (whereas impleaded with John Classon for the murder of R. T. Mahone) being called, Mr. S. McGroarty stated that the prisoner proposed to plead "guilty of manisaughter", not because he felt himself guilty of manisaughter", not because he felt himself guilty of the crime, but under the apprehension that he would be unable to rebut a portion of the testimony that was elicited in the case of John Classon; and in the hope that the mercy of the Court would be extended to blim. Connect also suggested that this young man had a wife and child depending on him.

Judge Collins—What can be said as to his past character.

Actor.

Mr. McGrearty—He bore a good reputation in every particular. We were prepared to prove that if the case had gone to trial.

John Clawson was then sent for to the jail, and upon heing examined by the Court, stated that Adams knew nothing as to any design upon the life of Mahone, but merely promised to accompany him (Clawson) and see that he got fair play, when he proposed to go and whip Mahone. There was no preconcerted attack.

Judge Collins then proceeded to pass sentence upon Wm, Adams: One year's imprisonment in the penitentiary.

There is no doubt but that the successful candidates are really the choice of their respective constituencies, and we suppose their rights to seats will not be disputed; but we are ourselves skeptical with regard to the legality of their election, from the fact that the new charter, which went into operation on the 1st inst., requires all city elections to be by ballot. These gentlemen were chosen view socc. viva poce.

Lost Child.-A night or two since, a German girl, eight or nine years old, was found wandering in the streets, crying bitterly; and, on being questioned, stated that her father was dead, and that her mother, who was a washerwoman, had come from New York, recently, bringing heralong; and that she had lost her parent, but how, or where she could not tell. She says her name is Lucieds. Fischer, and appears to be in great she could not tell. She says her name is Lu-cinda Fischer, and appears to be in great distress. She is now at the Poor-house, where she will remain until her parent is heard from, or a home for her is provided.

Assault with Deadly Weapons.—A diffi-culty occurred on Saturday night last, on Columbia-street, between a man named Zeek and another named McCowan, in which the former drew a pistol, but was prevented from using it by the by-standers. Jealousy was the cause of the affair. Zeek fled to Cincin-nati, whither he was pursued by the officers, but without success.

I. O. O. F. Batt.—The above society of our city will give a grand promenade and cotilon party on the night of the 29th inst., at their hall, corner of Jefferson and Yorkstreets. The proceeds are designed as a benefit to the widows and orphans of deceased members. We hope the proceeds will be large. arge.

"Pa, isn't that man in what they call the spring-time of life?" asked young Master Precocity.
"Why ask the question?" said Pa.
"Because he looks so green!" replied the urchin with an air of triumph.

Details of Mexican News

Washington, March 19.—The New Orleans papers of Thursday, received here by Express, gives the details of Mexican news brought by the Star of the West.

Miramon approached VeraCruz on the 29th ult., with 5,000 men and a namerous train of artillery and ammanition stores, and encamped four miles from the city. The head-quarters were at Medelin. Miramon several times surveyed the city from the sand-hills. His principle Generals are Robles and Negrete. All the inhabitants fled at his approach. The city was in the best state of delense. The garrison was composed of from 3,000 to 4,000 men, well supplied in every respect. Gen. Iglesjas is in command, with Ampudia as Chief of the artillery.

Col. Lane, an Englishman, commands a sand fort, recently creeted near the city mounting six eighty-four pounders. It is thought this fort will be able to resist the approach of Miramon if the men are faithful. On the 15th ult., Col. Vivallado, who commanded one of the principal forts on the southern side, was detected in a conspiracy to blow up the fort on Miramon's approach, and the latter was to enter the city on that side. Thirty compirators were banished from the city and Vivallado condemned to four years' imprisonment.

Maran's Havana expedition raised the Mexican flag when out of Havana larbor. It was last heard from at Siral. As far as was known the plan was to land on the const at or near the mouth of the Medelin River, and thence communicate with Miramon. Maran had on board a large quantity of ammunition stores and twelve twenty-four pounders. It was believed that several other vessels had sailed from Havana on the same mission. A well-laden schooner was known to have sailed on the 10th.

sailed from Havana on the same mission. A well-laden schooner was known to have sailed on the 10th.

Meanwhile Juraez is on the lookout for their expedition. He had a battery planted at the mouth of Medelin River. Six or seven schooners and rigged gun-boats were stationed along the Coast to intercept it. The Indianola will tow the gun-boats to action. Gen. Goycouria was on board the Indianola. The Sevannah, Saratoga and Preble were anchored under the inside walls of San Juan de Ulloa, ready to act in any emergency. English, French and Spanish vessels were at Sacrificios. The French commander and others had visited Miramon's camp. The result of the interview is unknown.

Capt. Turner, of the Saratoga, had gone to Miramon's camp is behalf of the American citizens. He had not returned.

It is stated that if Miramon does not guarantee full protection to the American hag and the property of our citizens. Capt. Jarvis will land 500 marines, armed with Minnie rifles. The Liberals and the American citizens were urging Capt. Jarvis to capture Miramon's expedition, which he had not decided to do when the Teciat sailed.

Lieut. Carter, who had arrived at New Orleans with dispatches for Washington, says that Vera Cruz was safe, but he thinks Miramon will occupy Alvarado. The Havana Diano says Miramon has from 6,000 to 8,000 men, well supported with artillery.

The Mexican steamer Marquez has arrived below, a United States prize, in charge of Lieut, Chapman, of the United States man-of-war Saratoga. The Saratoga's men also captured the steamer Miramon, which arrived below at noon. Both steamers were captured on the morning of the 6th, off Anton Lisardos, after a brief action and slight loss.
